Part C: Reading Comprehension

Passage 1

The Moon is the Earth's only natural satellite. As the Earth moves round the Sun, so the Moon in turn revolves round the Earth. As it orbits the Earth, the Moon also turns on its axis. The time taken to complete one rotation is the same as that taken for one orbit - about 29.5 days. So the same side of the Moon always faces the Earth. Photographs taken by space probes have shown that the far side is similar to the familiar near side.

The Moon releases no light of its own and shines only because it reflects the Sun's light. As it turns on its axis only once in a journey round the Earth, each part of its surface has first about two weeks of darkness and then about two weeks of sunlight. When the Moon comes between the Earth and the Sun, it is invisible because the face turned towards the Earth is in darkness and sunlight is falling on the far side. This is the time of "New Moon". A few days later, a thin crescent Moon is seen low in the western sky, as the Moon advances along its orbit and the Sun begins to light up the side turned towards the Earth. Occasionally, during this crescent phase, the whole disc may be seen faintly lit by Earthshine (light reflected from the Earth).

Ask your child to get groceries for you or place them in the basket. Give your child educational instructions, such as "Get me the green can, please", or "Bring me the bag of rice, please". Don't forget to say "please" and "thank you", when appropriate.

Involve your child into a friendly chat about what you're doing. For example, you might say "We're going to make sandwiches with this hamburger meat. You really like sandwiches, don't you?"

This is also a good time to educate your kid. For example, "Bananas grow on trees. What else can you think of that grows on trees?" or "All fruits have a skin or cover on them to protect them from rain and bugs". By your frequent physical contact, praise, teaching, and pleasant conversation, your child will remain much more interested in the trip. By actually helping you, he will learn that stores are a fun place to visit.

If your child breaks one of your rules, immediately make him sit in "time - out". This can be any place that is generally out of the normal flow of foot traffic. In a grocery store, you can just point to one of the tile floor squares and firmly tell your child to sit on that square because he walked away from you. In a restaurant, you can simply turn your child's chair around. If the restaurant is not very crowded, you can place your child on another chair about 3 to 4 feet away from you. As soon as your child is quiet for about half a minute, tell him that it is okay to get up or to turn his chair back to the table.
