Part C: Reading Comprehe	nsion

That's hardly surprising if you know something about their background, because they met while taking an art class in college together. However, they are artistic in different ways. Of the two, my father is probably the more imaginative. He was trained as an architect and is able to look at problems in different ways. In fact, he usually has so many different ideas that it's difficult for him to settle on just one solution to a problem. Take the house I grew up in, which he designed. He came up with a great plan and built it that way, but after it was finished he wasn't happy with it for long. He decided he wanted to try a new design. He kept working on that house the whole time we lived there.

My mother is a fashion designer. She's also very artistic, but in a different way. When she's designing, she thinks about what she wants for a while and then usually makes just one design. However, it's a very good design. Generally speaking, you could say that she's more practical than my father. Perhaps that is why my mother is the one who ....

I like to think I'm similar to both of my parents. I have an artistic side, but I'm practical, too. I guess you could say that both of those sides are reflected in the career path I've chosen - I just started my own business designing Web sites.
