What have you done so far today?

Ellie At last! I've been waiting for ages. Where have you been? What have you been doing?

Jack My bus didn't come. I've been trying to phone you since 7.30 ...

Ellie You're 25 minutes late! The film has started.

Jack Sorry. Do you still want to see it?

Ellie Yes, I do. I've been looking forward to it for weeks.
It stars my favourite actor. And I've already bought the tickets!

Jack Let's go inside then.

Ellie OK. But why is your hair wet? It hasn't been raining.

Jack That's sweat. I've been running for 25 minutes! And

I haven't eaten. Can we see the film later?

Present Perfect Simple for ...

- 1 I've lived in Tehran all my life.
  - → "all my life": the period that continuous until now (UNFINISHED)
    - 2 I've been at this school for nine years.
      - → "for ···": states how long the situation has existed (use: since, for & how long)
- J've lost my keys; I can't open the door.
  - → there's a strong connection with now, RECENTLY COMPLETED (use: already, just & yet)**
    - 4 Sara has watched sunset near Ocean.
      - → talk about experiences in lifetime; how often they have happened. (use: never & ever)

Present Perfect Continuous

Used for activity that began in the past and still in progress or which explains the current situation

- ☐ You're out of breath. Have you been running? (= you're out of breath now)
- □ Paul is very tired. He's been working very hard. (= he's tired now)
- □ Why are your clothes so dirty? What have you been doing?
- ☐ I've been talking to Amanda about the problem and she agrees with me.
- □ Where have you been? I've been looking for you everywhere.

Action started in past, stopped recently (or now) + you can see signs of it at the moment

Using with how long ···, for ··· , since··· → the activity is still happening or just stopped!

Present Perfect Continuous

Used for activity that repeated over recent time:

- □ Debbie is a very good tennis player. She's been playing since she was eight.
- □ Every morning they meet in the same café. They've been going there for years.

Repetition over time is what matters NOT Continuity

Practice

She Has been watching TV

You meet a friend in the street. His face and hands are very dirty.

You ask: (what / you / do?) What have you been doing?

A friend of yours is now working in a shop. You want to know how long.

You ask: (how long / you / work / there?) ...... How long have you been working there?.....

Present Perfect simple and continuous

Kate's clothes are covered in paint. She has been painting the ceiling.

Has been painting is the present perfect continuous.

We are interested in the activity. It does not matter whether something has been finished or not. In this example, the activity (painting the ceiling) has not been finished.

The ceiling was white. Now it is red. She has painted the ceiling.

Has painted is the present perfect simple.

Here, the important thing is that something has been finished. Has painted is a completed action. We are interested in the result of the activity (the painted ceiling), not the activity itself.

How long..., Since, For

→ Duration of action in progress

Present Perfect simple

Present Perfect continuous

I've been at this school for nine years.

Activity in progress over a long time

I've been studying at the school for 10 hrs.

Activity in progress recently

Note!

For state verbs in the context of Present Perfect tense, NO continuous form is defined!

Only in Present Perfect Simple

I have been believing in God since I was a teen

I have believed in God since I was a teen
