

Hello

-
- A young woman with long blonde hair and a blue jacket is sitting at a table with an elderly woman. They are both smiling and looking at a photo album open on the table. The young woman has her arm around the elderly woman's shoulder. The elderly woman is wearing glasses and a pink scarf. The background is a bright room with a window. A pink vertical bar is in the top right corner.
- Do you have any special memory?
 - What is it?
 - Why is it special for you?
 - Do you like to have it again?

colorful

soft

hard heavy old lovely pretty round

smooth

soft

HILL CREST ACADEMY

ANJA, AGE 13

My special memory is from when I was three years old. We were staying with my grandparents at their house in the country. They lived in an old wooden house. I remember the house was always cold and it was near a forest. When it was time for bed, Grandma took me upstairs to read me a story. On my bed there was a lovely wool blanket. It was really colourful. I remember touching it and it was so, so soft. 'It's yours. I made it for you,' my grandma said. I still have the blanket on my bed at home. It looks really small there, but I remember when I was younger it seemed so big!

PETE, AGE 14

My special memory isn't from very long ago. I was opening presents on my 13th birthday. My older brother gave me a large box. It was very hard. What could it be? I opened it and felt inside. I'm blind, so I needed to touch everything because I can't see. It was smooth and round. I remember thinking 'It's a leather football' and feeling upset. I can't play football because I can't see the ball. I picked it up. It felt quite heavy, and it made a noise. My brother told me it was a special football for blind people. There are little metal balls inside that make a noise when someone kicks or throws it. Perfect! Now I play football all the time.

What did you understand?

What was Anja's grandparent's house like?

SPIN

When did Anja first see the blankets?

What was it like?

SPIN

Why do you think Anja remembers it as big when in fact it's quite small?

Why did he feel sad when he first felt the present?

What happened when he took it out?

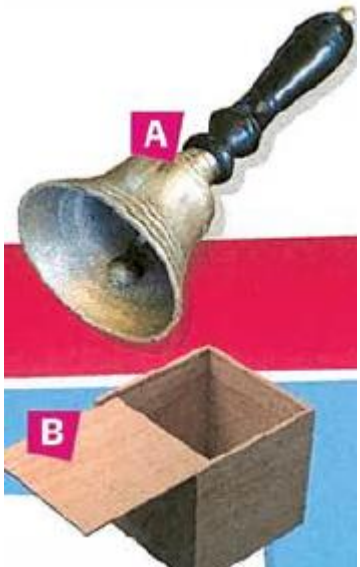

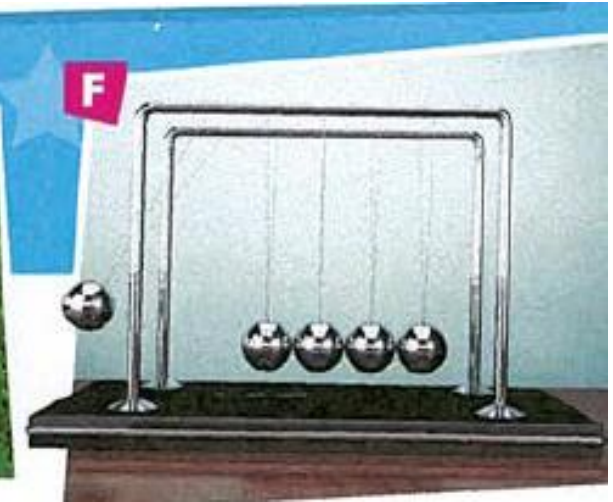

Who was Pete's present from?

- 1 It was an old, wooden house and it was always cold.
- 2 When she was three years old and staying at her grandparents' house.
- 3 It was beautiful, colourful and soft.
- 4 Because she was small, the blanket seemed big to her.
- 5 It was from his older brother.
- 6 It felt round, hard and smooth (and quite heavy).
- 7 Because he can't see and so can't play football.
- 8 The ball made a noise because it had small metal balls inside.

answer

2 In pairs, describe the objects in the photos. Use the adjectives from Exercise 1 and others you know.

colourful hard heavy large little lovely old pretty round small smooth soft

A hard, heavy, old

B hard

C little, lovely, pretty, small

D colourful, lovely, pretty, soft

E hard, heavy, round, smooth

F round, small, smooth

In pairs, describe the objects in the photos.
Use the adjectives from Exercise 1 and others you know.

Thanks

