

Must is usually used: - to say that something is necessity, - or also can be used when something is true. -The expressions(have to,need to) Can be used with the same meaning -have got to is not used in formal E. or Am. English. -negative form:must not

Should -similar meaning with:ought to and would -used for making formal request or offer in conditional sentences -announcements, purpose clauses -wishes and requests, -possible situations, -giving advice Negative form: shouldn't or should not

Imagine that you are going to go o long holiday.Write sentences with mustn't or should / shouldn't.Use following expressions:	h must
 -write to my parents every week -lose my passport -look after my money -phone every day -talk to strangers -go out alone when it is dark -drink too much alcoholic drinks -have a bath/ shower every day -go dangerous place -swim far into the sea -phone if you are in trouble -take suncream -take anything valuable -put too much into my bags -make friend strange people -help for young ladies -drive too fast -buy expensive souvenirs -ask a policeman when you are lost -have a good time -use a map

___·