- 1 Read the email from Jason to his new friend Juan. When is Juan's visit?

A screenshot of an email window. The window has a teal title bar with window control buttons (red, yellow, green) on the left and search and home icons on the right. The email content is as follows:

Hi Juan,

Thanks for your email. I am very happy about your visit. We can do lots of things when you come. In the morning, we can go to the park because it's near my house and we can meet my friends in the shopping centre in the afternoon. In the evening, we can see a film or some music. I hope you like my ideas, but please tell me what other things you like doing and we can do them, too.

See you next weekend.

Jason
