Sandra's blog A family celebration

Last week, it was my grandfather's birthday. He was 90 years old! We had a big celebration at my house. All my uncles and aunts came, and my cousins, too.

In the morning, my sister and I put up decorations in the house and the garden. It looked great! I was blowing up balloons when my grandfather arrived. He was happy and he liked the decorations very much.

I helped my parents to prepare the food. We made cake and pastries. We also had some crisps, popcorn and sandwiches. I was drinking a fizzy drink when the other guests arrived.

We had lunch in the garden because it was sunny. But while we were eating, it started to rain. It was windy too. All the balloons in the garden blew away!

We all went inside for cake and presents. We watched Grandfather while he was opening his presents and we sang a song while he was blowing out his candles. He had a wonderful birthday and we all enjoyed the celebration too!

Diary of a settler

We went on a long journey from England to North America. It was an amazing adventure. We left in September 1620. The voyage was very dangerous. While we ¹ were sailing across the Atlantic, there were many storms. We ² arrived in the new world after 62 days in December 1620. We had to build homes because winter ³ was coming and it was starting to get cold. While we ⁴ were settling into our new home in March 1621, some Native Americans ⁵ visited us. They helped us to find food and we became friends. In November 1621, we had a big celebration to thank the Native Americans. We ⁶ played ball games, sang songs and danced to music. WEDDING TRADITIONS

There was a wedding last year in my village in Greece. Everyone in the village went and there were 500 people at the wedding! During the ceremony, the bride and groom exchanged rings and afterwards there was a big party with a lot of food. The couple didn't get wedding presents because they did the traditional Greek dance. While they were dancing, we gave them money. At the end of the dance, they had a lot of money on them! One of my favourite things about Greek weddings is the special wedding biscuit. Every guest gets a biscuit to take home. They have nuts and sugar in them. They taste very good!
