Ms. Asgari

Hello! Welcome to this session.

Let's go to the book.

Families of the world

Kyle's blog

In Britain, we've got a lot of different families – some are big and some are small. My family is quite big, for example. I've got two brothers. We play football together every Saturday. They're my brothers, but they're also my friends! My mum's sister lives next to us with her family. My cousin Jason is very intelligent and he helps me with my homework. It's nice to have cousins, too!

Lang's blog

A lot of families here in China have got only one child. My friends and I haven't got brothers or sisters, but we aren't sad. We can do what we want. We've got a good life and we've got very good friends. I live with my mum and dad and my granny and grandad. It's fun because my grandparents play games with me. I love my small family.
