

General Fiction

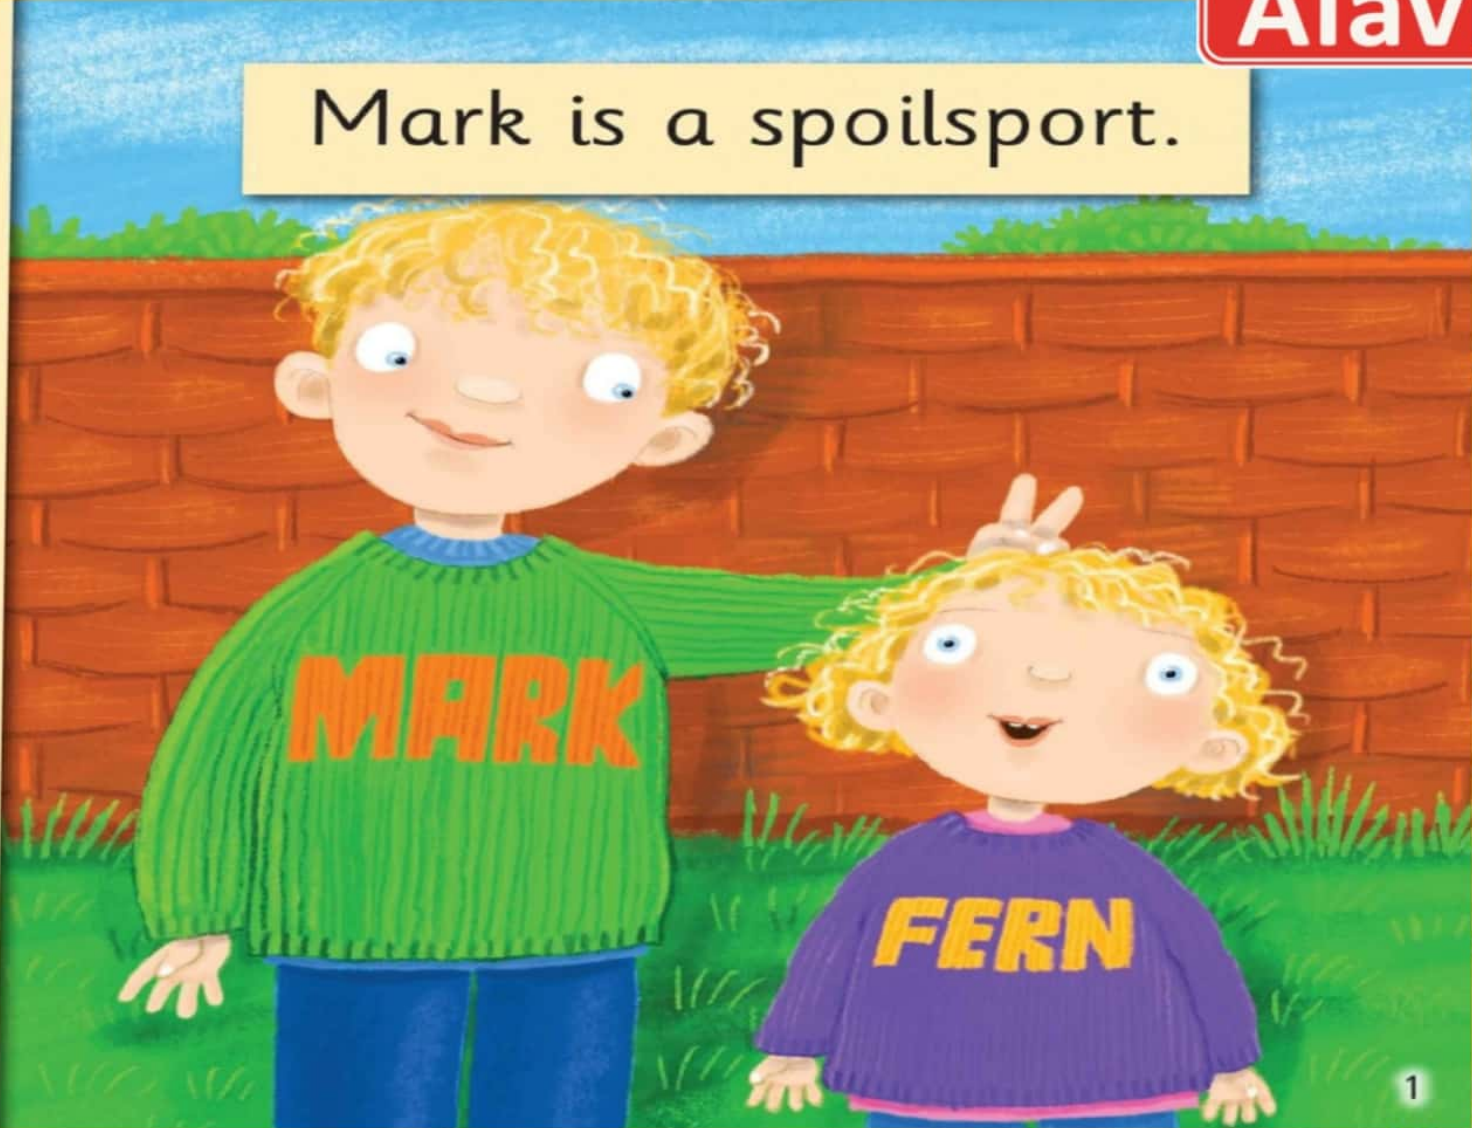

Alavi

Spoilsport

Jolly Phonics

Mark is a spoilsport.

oi • Qu

qu Ue

er Er

ar Ar

ou Oi

ue Ou

'I can count better than Fern can!' he shouts.

1, 2, 3...

I can count better than Fern can!

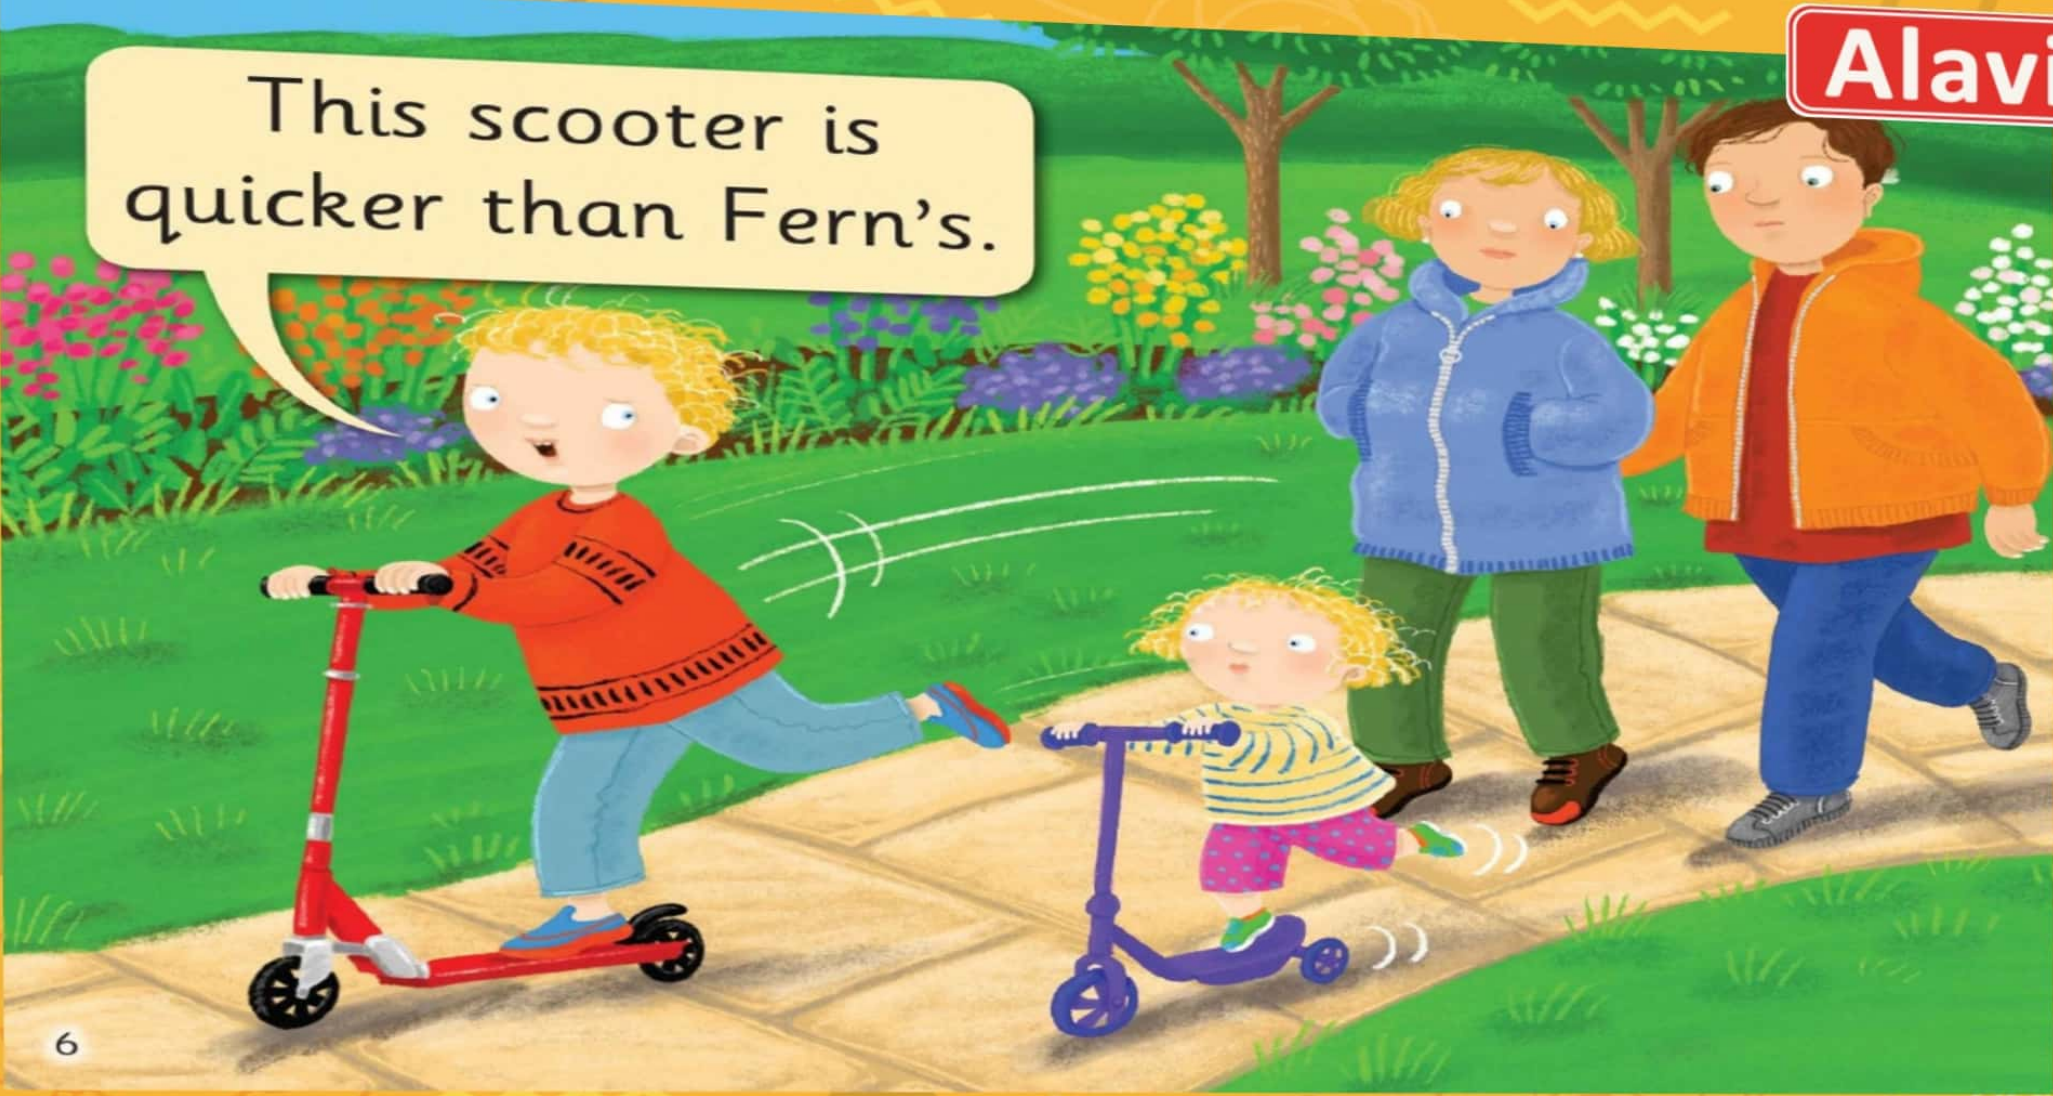

An illustration of two children sitting at a wooden table, painting. The child on the left has blonde curly hair and is wearing a green patterned shirt, looking down at their work. The child on the right has blonde curly hair and is wearing a red sweater, looking up and speaking. On the table are several jars of paint in yellow, red, green, and blue, along with brushes and pieces of paper with paint splatters. A lamp with a yellow shade is on the left. The background is blue with white leaf patterns. A yellow speech bubble is positioned above the child on the right.

And I am better at painting!

She will not win this quiz.
She is not clever.

This scooter is quicker than Fern's.

He speeds around the corner...

Dad rescues Mark from the pond.

Fern is not quick, but she is much better at avoiding the pond!

