

The We Like To Move It Crew
presents:

All right.
So why are we here?

The question that has vexed
common man and philosopher alike.

That's not what you're going for.

Maurice said
he's got a very important announcement.

All right,
might I have everyone's attention?

Everyone, eyes and ears!

Hello?
Is anyone listening?

Quiet!

Thank you.

It is my honor
to introduce King Julien,

leader of lemurs,
lord of the ringtails,

et cetera, et cetera,

et cetera

Thank you, Maurice,
for your hearty "et ceteras".

I'll cut to the chases.

In a few hours, we celebrate the biggest holiday of the year.

Christmas in july!

Except...

Not christmas, and it's not july.

Look how playfully
they tease me, Maurice.

You know I am speaking of King Julien day.

How could you not?
It's on every calendar.

What about this one?

There it is. See?

So shut up and start shopping.

So, what is King Julien day?

On King Julien day,
everybody loads up the gifts on the King

and pretty much does whatever he says.

It's eight kinds of fun.

No lie.

I see.

Well, in that case, pass.

Listen to me

You don't understand this situation.

You want King Julien
to be happy on his holiday.
