'I have found' is sometimes called a 'present perfect' tense - it describes a past action with present effect. 'I found' is a past perfect, or past historic, or aorist tense (don't worry about the terminology) describing an action that's complete - over and done with.

Go away=to leave

Annoying=mad

Meanwhile = in the period of time between two events, or while an event is happening.

Is ours=belong to harbour

Welcome

1

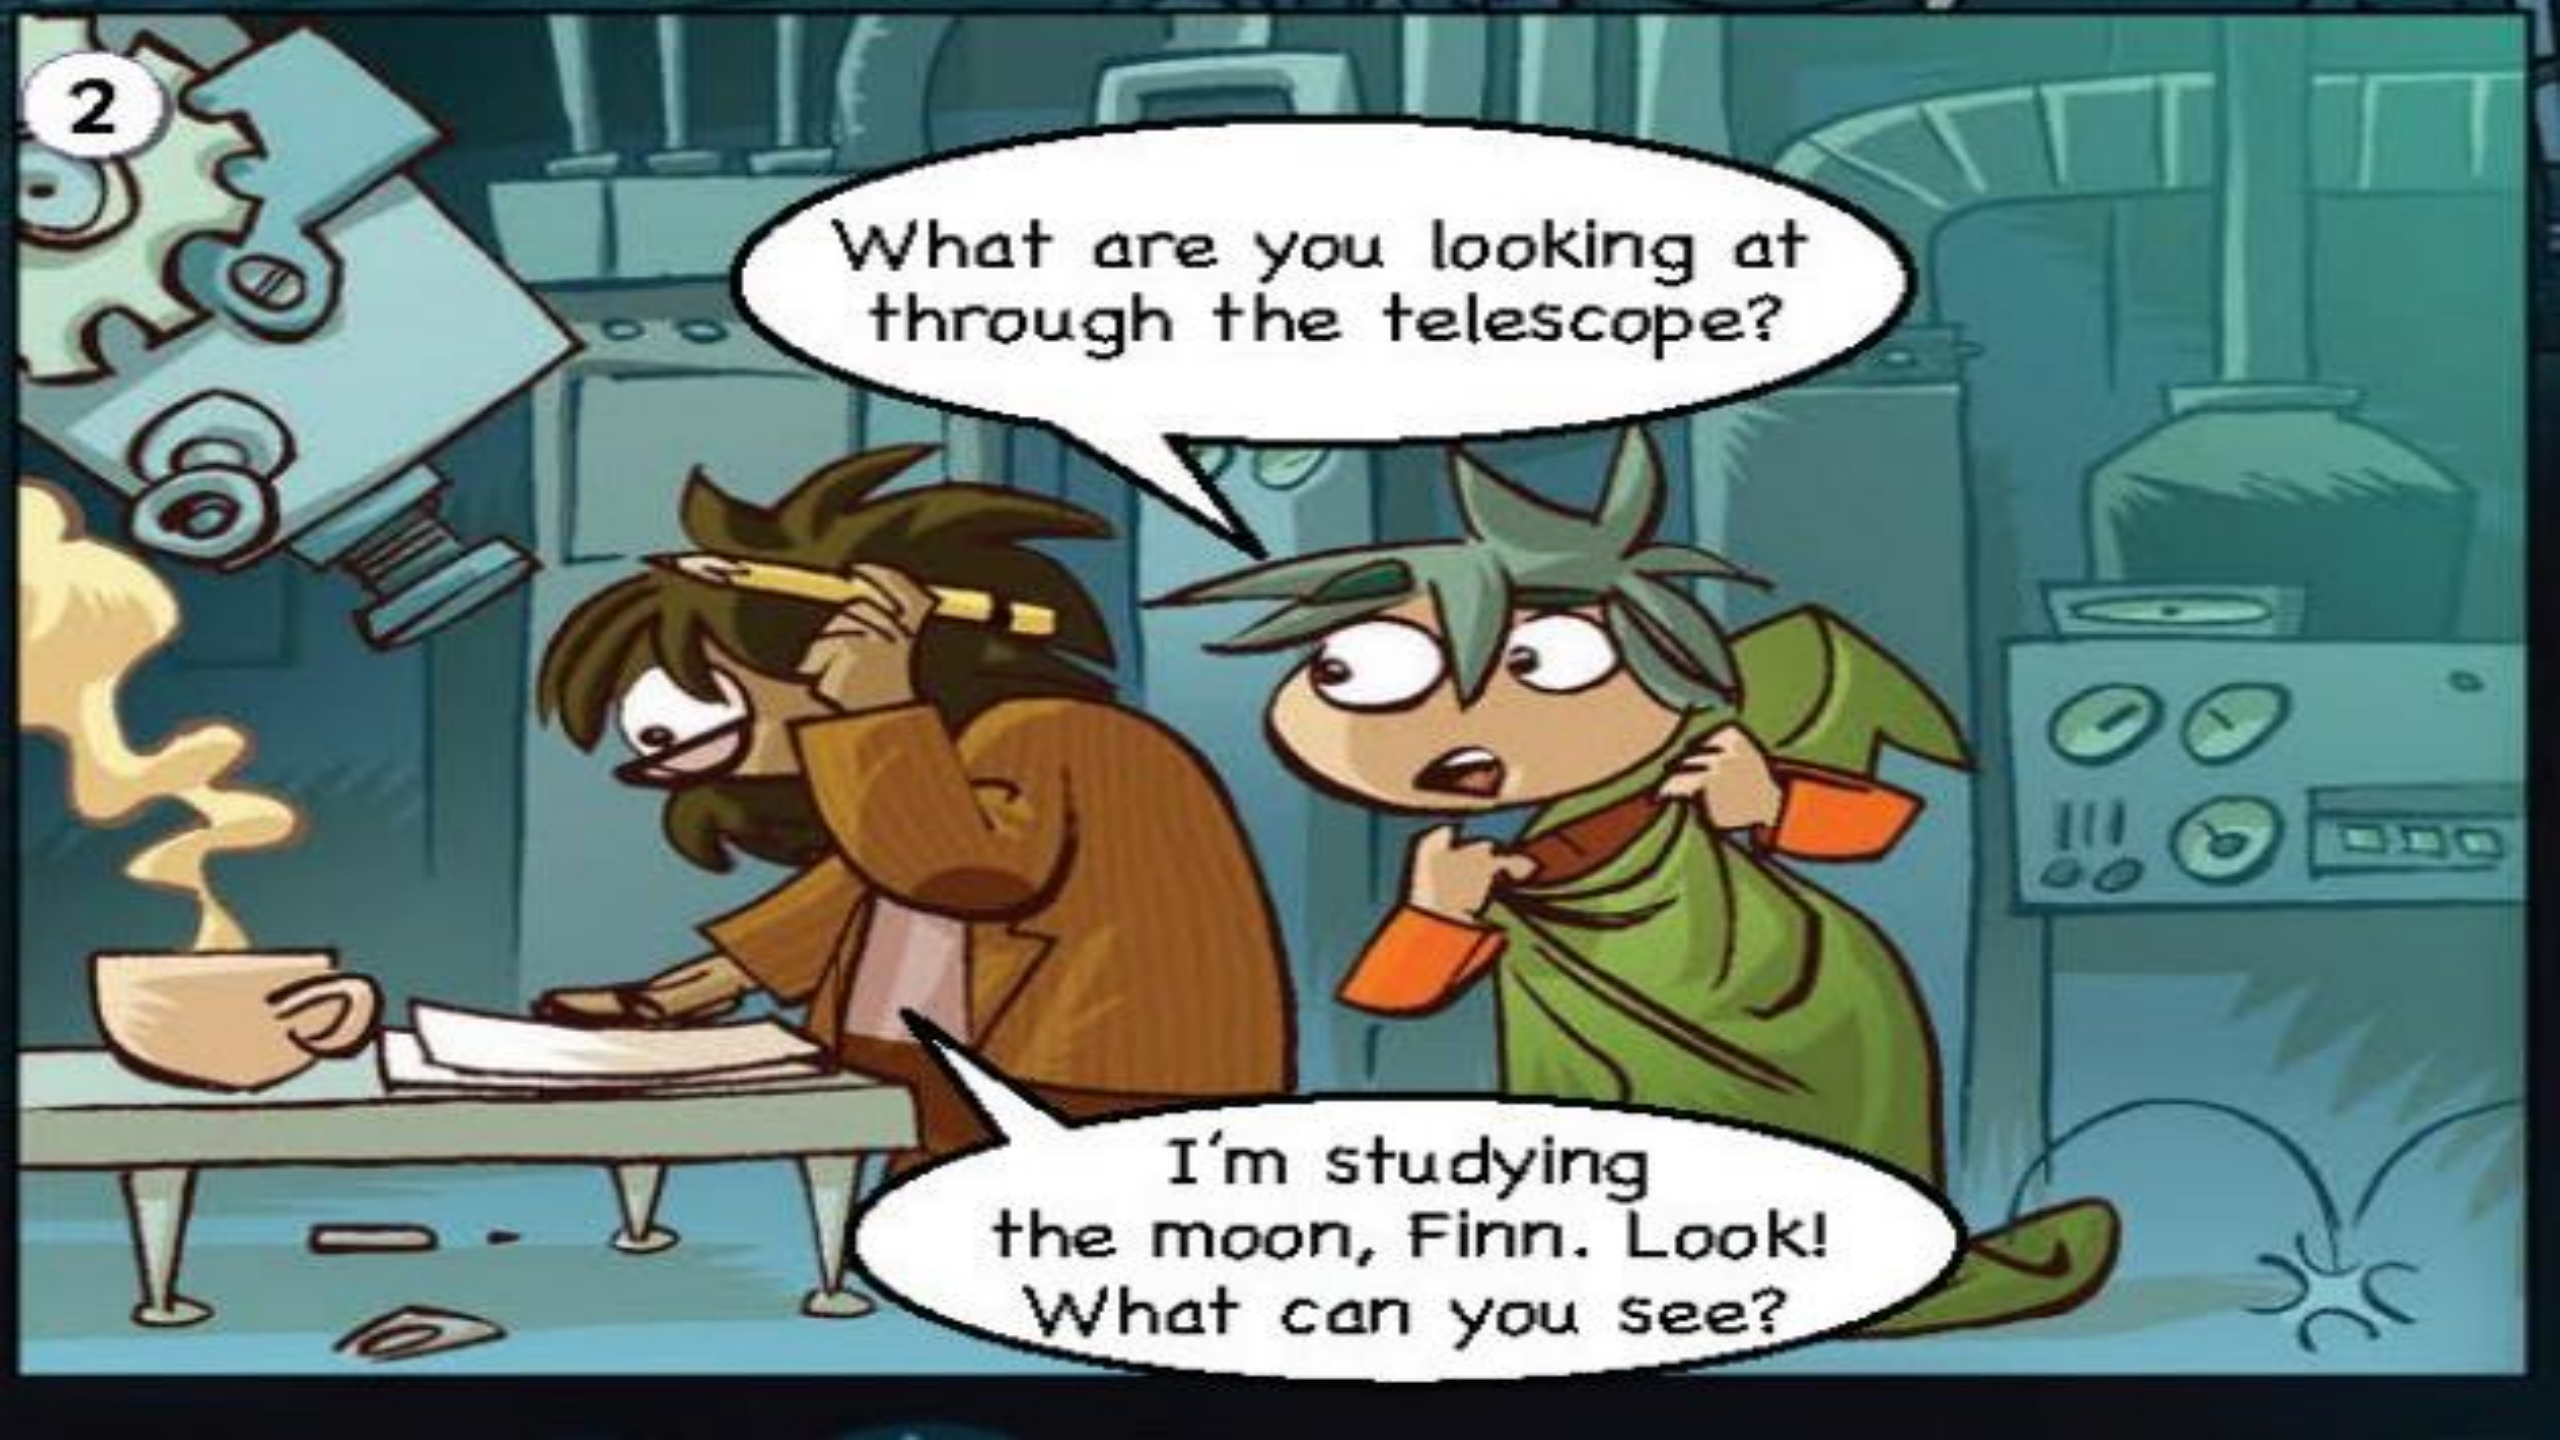

Listen and read.
Where are the children?
Then act out.

It's four o'clock in the morning on Ice Island.

04:00am

I know, Jenny, but you should come and see the moon!

COME ON!
Wake up, kids!

What are you looking at through the telescope?

I'm studying the moon, Finn. Look! What can you see?

3

It looks like a man in the moon!

4

No, it isn't a man.
It's a rabbit!

5

Well, I think it's a snail!

6

You're both wrong! The moon is a big piece of cheese, and I'm very fond of cheese!

How about some breakfast, everyone?

Meanwhile, at the harbour.

Welco

9

Look, Rufus!
I've found it.

SHH! We mustn't wake
Captain Formosa!

10

Hurry up, Ivan.
And be quiet!

11

CLANG

What's that noise?
Who's there?

Quick! Let's hide in here.
Captain Formosa is coming!

Go away, you annoying penguins! The map is OURS now!!

Why do we have to wake up so early?

Why do we have to be quiet in classroom?

Why do we have to go to school?

Why do we have to brush our teeth?

Why do we have to wear uniform?

Why do we have to speak English?
