

Bonfire Night

1 Read.

On 5th November every year, people in the UK celebrate Bonfire Night. People leave the house and they go to see a big fire called a bonfire. There are some fireworks too. Bonfire Night is in winter. It's cold, but it's a lot of fun!

2 Listen, read and say.

3 Listen and read.

I'm Mike, and it's Bonfire Night! We're at a fireworks display. It's very cold, but there is a big bonfire. We're standing next to the bonfire and it's very hot! I've got a toffee apple and my sister has got a hot dog. We haven't got sparklers, but there are a lot of fireworks in the sky!

4 Read again and answer.

- 1 Where do people celebrate Bonfire Night?
- 2 Is there a bonfire?
- 3 Is the bonfire cold?
- 4 Has Mike got a sparkler?
- 5 Are there any fireworks in the sky?