

Wedding traditions

In many countries, weddings are important occasions. Family members and friends come together to celebrate with the new couple. I went to a big wedding in Dublin last month. The bride wore a long, white dress and the groom wore a black suit. I thought they looked very nice. During the ceremony, the new couple exchanged gold rings. After the wedding, the guests enjoyed a big meal and had wedding cake for dessert. It was delicious!

Sheila, 10, Cork