	Passage 1:
	Once upon a time a psychology professor walked around on a stage. She was teaching stress management principles to a class filled with students. As she held a glass of water, everyone thought that she would ask the typical “glass half empty or glass half full” question. Instead, with a smile on her face, the professor asked, “ How heavy is this glass of water I’m holding?” Students shouted out different answers. She answered, “In my opinion, the absolute weight of this glass doesn’t matter. It all depends on how long I hold it. If I hold it for a minute or two, it’s light. If I hold it for an hour, its weight might make my arm ache a little. If I hold it for a day, my arm will likely cramp up and I will not be able to move my arm for some days, forcing me to drop the glass to the floor. In each case, the weight of the glass doesn’t change, but the longer I hold it, the heavier it feels to me.”
	As the class shook their heads in agreement, she continued, “Your stresses and worries in life are like this glass of water. Think about your worries for a while and nothing happens. Think about them a bit longer and you begin to ache a little. Think about them all day long, and you will feel completely incapable of doing anything else until you drop them .”
	49. What is the main idea of the text?
	1) Our stresses are as light as water.
	2) If you hold a glass for a day, you will drop it at the end of the day.
	3) The weight of our worries depends on how long we hold them.
	4) We should see the glass half full to be able to overcome our stress.
	50. What was important to the professor?
	1) half empty glass		2) the weight of the glass
	3) half full glass		4) how long the glass is held
	51. What does “them” in the last line refer to?
	1) worries	2) glasses	3) students	4) arms
